WE WANT

A Leader to Push the Water-works Proposition.

What has become of our water-works proposition that was agitated a few weeks ago, it seems to have gotten lost somewhere in the recent blizzard that swept across this country.

We would like to see the question revived again. Surely the people of our town should not permit a valuable improvement as that would prove to be to go by without favorable consideration.

If our townsmen will not take the matter up they should at least encourage foreign capital that would come into our midst by giving them an opportunity to install this plant.

Our sister towns of Williamsburg and London are both making preparations to put in a water-works system this spring.

What is the matter with Barbourville that she is not in the line of progress?

Where does the fault lie? Is it with our Board of Council, or is it with the citizens? Let's examine and locate the seat of the trouble and remedy the fault in some way.

We believe that the Board of Council wants to do its duty toward the town. The men who compose the Board are all good business men and have made a success of their individual affairs, and therefore there is no good reason why they should not make a success of the affairs of the city. They have done good and valiant service in many other things they have undertaken. Now why not take up this great need and push it through to a final and successful end?

It would prove a lasting monument to the memory of their names, and if they neglect the opportunity it will be done later and the credit will go to whom the credit is due.

By all means let's put the movement on foot, and with the opening of spring we too can begin the construction of a system that will be the greatest boon that our town has ever yet enjoyed.

POWERS'

NEXT TRIAL

May Take Place in May Next.

Judge Stout Says He Will #### Give Due Notice To

All Concerned

Judge Robert L. Stout, of Versailles, who succeeded Judge Cantrill on the Circuit bench in the district composed of Franklin, Woodford, Bourbon and Scott counties, stated that the case against Caleb Powers would not be called for trial until the latter part of May or the first of June.

Judge Stout said it would require a special term of court in which to try the now famous case, and it was his desire to finish the regular terms of court in his district before calling the Powers case in order that as much time as was necessary could be had for the trial. He said he believed the trial would require as much time as had either of the three former trials of the case, and that he wanted to give both sides the advantage of every opportunity to present the best case possible.

Judge Stout said that he would give the notice to all interested when the time comes so that they may properly prepare for trial and avoid unnecessary delays when the case is entered into.

HAMP SMITH

Brought From Louisville in a Very Feeble Condition.

Mr. Hamp L. Smith, who was so seriously injured at the North Jellico mines some time ago by falling stone, and who was afterward taken to the hospital at Louisville, where a part of the spinal column was removed, was brought back to the home of his brother-in-law, J. H. Golden, last Wednesday evening, the doctors in Louisville having given up all hope for his recovery.

He seemed to stand the trip exceedingly well, and although he is very weak and feeble, he greeted his friends with a smile.

James Golden went to Louisville last Saturday and made arrangements to bring Mr. Smith back and accompanied him home Wednesday evening.

MEMORIAM.

In memory of our brother, Harvey McDonald, who was born in Knox county, Ky., on Richland creek, in the year of our Lord, 1855, on June 17, and was one of the eleven children born to William and Louisa McDonald, he being the sixth in this group, but first to join the host in the city of the dead.

While we ten—seven brothers and three sisters—are left to mourn our loss of him, we are not like those that have no hope, for we are assured that he rests from his labors and his works do follow him.

We remember him as an infant on our mother's lap, when the lamp of reason dawned and he looked up with a smile and met with mother's smile. We remember him as a little boy playing around the same home, running in the same garden, eating at the same table, loved and cherished by the same father and mother, working on the same farm, and going to the same school, bearing each others burdens and sharing each others joys.

At the age of about 18 years, he united in marriage with Samantha Josephine Mitchell and to this union were born thirteen children, one of whom had preceded him to the spirit world.

Our brother had taught 23 schools and worked on the farm until a few years ago when he moved with his family to Walden, Ky., where he engaged himself to work for the Walden Coal and Coking Co. He was a cheerful worker for some time, but was recently succeeded by his nephew, W. D. Werten. He then went inside the mines and there he continued his work.

Last Monday evening, February 20, after he had finished his day's labor and had started to come out of the mine, to join again with his family around the fireside, he was run down and fatally wounded by a motor car, owned and operated by the Company, from which wound he died on Thursday evening, the 23, at 7 o'clock.

He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for more than thirty years and a licensed exhorter for many years.

When the sad news was flashed over the wires to his relatives, his seven brothers and three sisters hastened to him and reached his bedside in time to hear his voice, in greeting them again to his humble home, and hear him relate how he praved the mortician to spare his life as he was being dragged along the rugged walls and timbers.

His last exhortation was to call his wife and twelve children to his bedside and said: "I want you all to know if I never awake from the effects of the chloroform that is about to be used, that I am prepared to go and I want you all to meet me in a better world." Then calling to see the youngest said: "God bless my little children. What will become of them?"

He soon fell asleep but revived again and continued conscious until noon next day when he fell into a stupor from which he never awoke.

We stood by him until the last, and when the end came, it was like a gentle sleep, calm and serene.

"Asleep in Jesus' blessed sleep."

From which none ever wake to weep. The remains were brought to Knox county and laid to rest in the cemetery at Trace Branch Church, of which he was a member. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. S. F. Kelley, assisted by Rev. W. C. Judd. The Junior Order of American Mechanics, Council No. 7, of which he was a member, attended in a body, besides a large concourse of relatives and friends who assembled to pay their last respects to his memory.

Good-bye till we meet again in the better world, for

"We shall sleep but not forever, There will be a glorious dawn, We shall meet to part, no never, On the resurrection morn."

His Brother,
D. McDONALD.

Sarah Ann Dozier, wife of Sherman Dozier, died at her home at Walden, Bell county, Ky. She leaves a husband, five little ones, an aged father, four brothers, four sisters, and a host of relatives to mourn their loss.

She joined the Methodist Episcopal church when she was quite young, of which she lived on in true faith to the end.

During the last few days of her life she was a constant sufferer, but she endured it as seeing him who is invisible. She died the death of the righteous, and her last moments were calm and peaceful for she had the testimony that she pleased God, and that she is not dead because the Lord has translated her soul from earth to heaven, where she dwells in the immediate presence and open vision and now numbered with the spirits of the just made perfect. Her testimony was perfectly clear; she declared in the presence of others that she was fully saved; she was ready and willing to depart from the body and be present with the Lord, which is far better. She spoke of dying with as much calmness apparently as one would speak of taking a pleasure journey.

Her body quietly sleeps in the Trace Branch graveyard awaiting the promised resurrection into life everlasting.

The funeral services were conducted at Trace Branch church by Revs. S. F. Kelly and W. C. Judd.

A light from our household is gone, a voice we loved is stilled, a place is vacant in our hearts which never can be filled; we cannot tell who next may fall beneath the chastening rod, one must be first but let us all prepare to meet our God.

She leaves many friends and relatives to join her mother who has gone on before, and the innumerable company of angels, the church of the first born without fault before the throne of God.

KNOX COUNTY BOY

Gains Contest and Carries Away the Honors.

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb 25, 1905.

Dear Mr Editor:

Thinking perhaps you would be pleased to hear something from the Kentucky boys in Valparaiso, Ind. so I write the following.

There was a contest arose in the Junior Law class, as to who should be the hero on Washington's birthday. There were seven persons who entered the contest, all of whom were eloquent speakers, and from different States as follows: one from Wisconsin, one from Ohio, one from West Virginia, one from Indiana, two from Illinois and one from old Kentucky—Sawyer A. Smith, of Barbourville.

The subject was an "Oration on Abraham Lincoln." The contest opened with a splendid oration from the Ohio gentleman, and ended with a victory for Sawyer A. Smith, of Barbourville.

His hardest task was not yet over; he had to go to the College Anito

COLLEGE NOTES

CRISP NEWS ITEMS DIRECT FROM EACH CAMPUS.

Union College Notes.

Prof. Faulkner is giving a series of talks to the students on religious subjects. His sermon on Tuesday morning, and the one on Wednesday morning, though short, was very fine, and had a good effect on the students.

Dr. Hill, of Somerset, was present at chapel services this morning and gave an interesting and instructive talk.

W. S. Hudson and William M. Dishman will discuss the Standard Oil Company's business in the Philomathean Society tonight. Messrs. Ben Dishman and Messer will debate on the Labor Question. Visitors are cordially invited to attend all literary sessions of the society.

Institute Notes.

Dr. Boyle lectured at the Institute Wednesday evening to a very excellent audience, and his lecture is regarded by those who heard and deliver the oration to an audience of over 1,500 very earnest hearers. This he did in a very elegant manner, and making the best speech of the day, gained for himself the love and respect of all who heard him. Yours truly,

H. B. Jones,

Sec'y Junior Law Class.

P. S.—We receive the Mountain Advocate every week promptly, and it is to us as an oasis in a desert.

The Meeting.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church continues and the interest seems to deepen and the house is filled every night. There have been several conversions since our last report, and also a number of accessions to the church.

Rev. E. B. Hill, presiding elder of this district, was here last Wednesday night and preached to a full house.

There is a probability of the meeting continuing all of next week, and arrangements are being made now to have Rev. George V. Morris, of Lexington, here next week to assist in the work.

The church is being greatly revived, and we believe that there has been much good done in the way of spiritualizing the churches of the town, and we trust that it may prove of lasting benefit to the entire community.

Court Day.

Last Monday was County Court day, but owing to the inclemency of the weather, there was only a small crowd in town and trading was quiet as usual.

The rounds of the county are in such a horrible condition that it is almost impossible for those living in the country to reach town, and only those who have business requiring them to venture out will not attempt to travel.

Quite a number of new students are in school this week. Among those are the Misses Ballard, Mr. Corum, Miss Bryant, Mr. Killian and Mr. Goodin from Bell county.

The regular written examinations which are required at the end of each month, were held last week, and the teachers notice an improvement in some particulars, noticeably in spelling, writing and neatness of composition.

We urgently request the citizens of the community to visit our class-rooms and see our work.

SUBSCRIPTION LAWS.

Many readers have from time to time requested information concerning newspaper subscription laws. Seven have been compiled from decisions of the United States Court, and embody points that neither newspaper publishers. The seven are:

1. Subscribers who do not express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they have settled their bills and refused them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former address they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and having them unsealed for prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of time if they do not wish to continue taking it otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscribers are responsible until an express notice is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it.

Under the law the man that allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and have a postal card sent notifying the publishers, leaving himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

It will be seen that many disputed points are thus disposed of by these decisions, which are certainly only just. If a subscriber doesn't want to renew his subscription let him notify the publisher. The second decision given here will be a surprise to some publishers, who believed they must stop a delinquent subscriber's paper if ordered to.

The delinquent must pay up if he desires to discontinue his subscription. Otherwise he is held responsible for as long as the paper is being sent to him, whether he takes it from the postoffice or not.

It is amusing to hear some old "mossbacks" sit around the stores in the groceries and say, "No, we cannot build a court-house, for the county people are all 'agen' it."

Now this is an injustice to our county friends. They are not against it, they believe in improvement as much as do our town people; they know that a new court-house would be as much for their benefit as it is for the town people. In fact, the people of the town can get up (in a way) with the one here, it is when the country is compelled to come in to court that a larger and more commodious building is needed. Then they sit around and try to blame the country people for what they are not responsible, and attempt to put all the burden of the blame upon them.

We believe that if the country people was given a chance to vote upon the proposition to issue the bonds they will convince these old "mossbacks" of Barbourville that they know a good thing, and are only too anxious to express their approval by voting for the new court-house where they can come in decency and in order to transact what ever business they may have, at the seat of justice.

EVERYONE LEND A HELPING HAND.

We would be glad to have any citizen who has the interest and up-building of our town and county at heart to offer suggestions through these columns as to how would be the best way to build up our community and attract the eyes of the business world this way.

We have endeavored to do our part along this line and are willing to do anything more that is in our power. Now let's hear from some one else. If we have been on the wrong road, let us know, and we will try to get right. If we are right, tell us so, and come to our rescue and help us in our efforts to do good for the community.

There is a great work here to be done and we believe more could be accomplished through a Commercial Club than any other means, if the people would take to it. Let's do some good for our country.

WE HAVE citizens in town (and this is not the only town that has them) that are ready to stand on the street corners and talk down and discourage every public enterprise that may be suggested on undertakings. Men who have means and yet are unwilling to contribute of their means, or even get out of the road, will stand and block the road to progress. We hope that this element will see the error of their way, and if they will at least step aside and let the wheels of progress roll on and let our town grow and enjoy the necessary improvements that are required to make a live, up-to-date town. We have a splendid location for a town, and with the proper amount of thrift upon the part of its citizens, could be made the best town in the mountains. Let's all pull together and make it such.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS
The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews
"Indispensable" - "The one magazine I can't live without." "The world under a single glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature." - these are some of the phrases we hear from noted people who read The Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important periodicals of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely new and alone this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.
Probably the most useful section of all is the "N. Y. C." which illustrates "Progress of the World," where public events and news are so briefly and lucidly explained in every issue. "I pay a subscription to this," its department alone is worth more than the Review of Reviews. "The Review of Reviews" is depicting current history in caricature, is another feature. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, fast and forward.
Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

FAFOOSE POPCORN
A New and Delicately
FORAGE, POULTRY, POPPING

A subscriber to the Southern Agriculturalist secured the original seed from an old Indian in Northwest Texas. After experimenting with it seven years he wrote that paper: "With good ground and care it will make from 50 to 100 bushels in the acre, and planted thick and cut stalk and all it will make more feed and better feed than anything I ever saw." The Indian said poultry fed on it would never have the cholera. I have not lost a fowl with cholera since I have been raising it. It also pops beautifully! This article brought hundreds of requests for seed, and now only a few bushels are left. Send 10c for a 3 months' trial subscription to Southern Agriculturalist, 39 C. P. Bldg., Nashville, Tenn., and you will get 100 seed by return mail, also details of $50 prize seed-growing contest.

THE CHILD ETERNAL.

I heard their prayers and kissed their sleepy eyes,
And tucked them all warm 'round foot to head,
To wake again with morning's glad sunrise—
Then came where he lay dead.

On cold still mouth I laid my lips,
Asleep

He lay to wake the other side of God's door,

Put this one mine no more.

Those other children long to men have grown—

Strange, hurried men who give me passing thought,

Their go their ways—No longer now my own,

Without me they have wrought.

So when night comes, and seeking mother's knee,

Tired childish feet turn home at eventide,

I fold him close—the child that's left me,

My little lad who died."

THERE are mighty few young people who go into marriage with any real idea of what it means.

They get their notion of it from among the clouds where they lived while they were engaged and naturally about all they find up their is wind and moonshine, or from novels which always ends before the real trouble begins, or, if they keep on, leave out the chapters that tell how the husband finds the rent and the wife the hired girl. But there is one thing in the world about which it is possible to get all the facts it's matrimony. Part of it is right in the house where you were born and the neighbors have the rest.

It has been my experience that you've got to have leisure to be unhappy. Half the troubles in this world are imaginary, and it takes time to think it up. But it's these often that the real troubles that break a young husband's back or a young wife's heart.

A few men and more women can be happy idle when they're single, but once you marry them to each other they've got to find trouble. You can ride three miles on the trolley car to the stock yards every morning and find happiness at the end of the trip, but you may chase it all over the world in a steam yacht without catching up with it. A woman can find fun from the basement to the nursery of her own house, but give her a license to gad the streets and a bunch of nutcase tickets and she'll be discontent. There's always an idle woman or an idle man in every divorce case. When the man carries the bread in the sweat of his face it's right the women should perspire a little baking it.

CONDUCT IN PUBLIC PLACES.

In no country is it more important to have good manners than in our own, and yet there is a great deficiency of care and instruction in this particular.

A young girl often grows up without ever being taught that to laugh audibly in public assemblies is not good manners; that presenting herself at the end of a crowded car and looking for a seat till some gentleman feels himself obliged to give her his is very ill-bred. Yet all these things should be settled in a young lady's education, and all those who have had the greatest advantages in this way should be ready to set an example worthy of imitation to those who look up to them. You will never seem to claim any particular seat as your right; you never will attempt to keep seats for those of your party who come later than you; you will never suffer, much less oblige, any gentleman to relinquish to you the good seat he has fairly earned by going very early and sitting long in patience.

You will certainly avoid going in late and disturb the company after the lecture has begun; but if you do chance to arrive late you will step in softly and take the first seat you can find, instead of making further interruption by parading through the room in search of a better seat.

Always think of the good of the audience, rather than of your own convenience. When the lecture is over, and the greeting of friends begins, be careful that your voice is not heard above the gentle hum around you, either in laughter or conversation. Delicacy and refinement require that a young lady should never make herself conspicuous in a public assembly, and if by any chance your high spirits have betrayed you in an audible laugh check yourself as soon as possible; do not try to leave it out as if it were all right, and people had no business to look at you. That only makes the matter worse.

The best way to overcome the selfishness you sometimes meet with on public occasions is by politeness and disinterestedness on your part; overcome evil with good and you will satisfy your own conscience and perhaps touch others.

Contenting too much for your rights stirs up the selfish feeling in others, while a readiness to yield them awakens generous sentiments and leads to mutual accommodations. The more refined you are and the greater have been your advantages the more polite and considerate you should be to others who are not so fortunate as to possess the opportunities that you have had.

If you wish to be a well-bred lady you must carry your manners with you. It is not a thing that can be laid aside and put on at pleasure. True politeness is accompanied by the calm self-possession which belongs to a noble simplicity of purpose, and unless you cultivate it and exercise it upon all occasions and toward all persons it will never be a part of yourself.

THE HOME.

No Christian and civilized community can afford to show a happy-go-lucky lack of concern for the youth of to-day; for, if so, the community will have to pay a terrible penalty of financial burden and social degradation in the to-morrow. There should be severe child labor and factory inspection laws. It is very desirable that married women should not work in factories. The prime duty in the man is to work, to be the bread-winner; the prime duty of the woman is to be the mother, the housewife. All of tariff and finance sink into utter insignificance when compared with the tremendous, the vital importance of trying to shape conditions so that these two duties of the man and the woman can be fulfilled under reasonably favorable circumstances. If a race does not have a plenty of children, or if the children do not grow up, or if when they grow up they are unhealthy in body and stunted or vicious in mind, then that race is decadent, and no heaping up of wealth, no splendor of momentary material prosperity, can avail in any degree as offsets—President's Message.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Knox Fork.

KIND EDITOR:—As I saw in your valuable paper a week or two ago where cousin Frank Mitchell was inquiring what had become of Charley Carty, and also Miss Rose, another one of your correspondents, who seems to be interested about Charley, but as I haven't seen him for several weeks, I will try and tell them where I think they can find him. If they will go to his father's house situated on what is called Hutton Branch, I think they will find him at home where all good boys ought to be, especially cousin Frank Mitchell.

J. J. Price has had a severe attack of a la grip for the past week.

Mrs. Wm. Lawson, of near Jarvis Store, had a severe attack of pneumonia fever.

Ed Parker, of this place, tracked up a large ground hog last Friday morning and caught it. Ground hog day must have been February 17 this year.

A Mr. Smith, of Barbourville, has been delivering enlarged pictures on Knox Fork for the Fidelity Portrait Company of Chicago.

Wm. Trosper and family, who left for Washington to make his future home some four years ago, will return to Louisville some time during the fall, where he expects to study medicine.

Saturday night, the 18th, the Angel of Death visited the home of Squire John Beatty and claimed the spirit of Beatty as his victim. For the past two months he has been in ill health and his death was not unexpected. He was taken with pneumonia fever about two months ago, but after a hard struggle he began to gain his health, when he was suddenly taken with pneumonia in the other lung, which ended in death. Mr. Beatty was a good citizen and belonged to the Republican party. He was also a member of the Christian church. He leaves a wife and eight children and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

Dearest friend thou has left us. Here thy loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God that has bereft us. He can all our sorrow heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is fled. Then in heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed.

M. S. P.

Jarvis Store.

Rev. Brown killed J. E. Bretz's regular appointment at Callahan School House Sunday. A very good crowd was out to hear him.

Wm. Martin, of this place, visited his sister, Mrs. Smith in Laurel Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Lawson is very low in this writing, but is improving somewhat, we are glad to say.

James Disney has declined the idea of hunting and has gone to trapping for rats. Hurrah! for Jim!

Mrs. Mat Dozier spent Sunday with her sick mother, Mrs. Lawson.

Thomas Disney, who has been confined to his bed with la grippe, is able to resume his duties as foreman on the grade for J. R. Bailey's switch to his coal bank.

We would like to know what Tip Jarvis and Charley Carty were looking so sad about Sunday. Does any one know?

James Disney was a pleasant caller on Lloyd Disney Saturday night and Sunday.

J. M. M.

Bailey's Switch.

D. W. Brown, of Barbourville, reached at McClelland school Sunday. An enthusiastic gathering.

Mrs. W. H. Grace were Taylor Sunday.

Barbourville, was near relatives.

Joe, wife of Jarvis Store, was a visit this week.

Quite a number from this place were in Barbourville Monday, as it was County Court day.

Mrs. James Jones, of Jarvis' Store, is visiting her sister at Williamsburg this week.

W. B. Willis' wife would be glad if some one make him behave and quit playing in the branch.

Mrs. Laura Myracle and the Misses Jackson, Elva and Ora, paid Mrs. J. R. Bailey and daughter, Cleatie, a pleasant call the 23d of Inst month.

J. R. Bailey is fixing to have his coal pulled—he has bought a bank mule.

Will some one please ask Thomas Disney if he has more candy than he needs.

Scalf.

Cold weather, had rands and hard times are all the go up here, but we long to see spring open up and times get better.

Thomas Hubbard and family are just getting over the grip. We are glad to see them out again.

Marshall and Perry Hubbard are moving to Ely's mines—to get rich, we suppose.

Mrs. Nancy C. Hammons is on the sick list this week.

Everybody should subscribe for the Advocate, as it is the only paper in the county, and its temperature of Republicanism is hot—just 200 in the shade.

The bogus count at the recent election at Upper Sinking in order to count Thomas G. Hammons out for square, has made him lots of votes for next November. Hurrah! for Thomas Hammons.

George Mills, of Ely's, was with us Sunday.

T. G. Hammons has bought some more real estate adjoining his farm on Stinking creek.

James Mills, of Flat Lick, is moving back among us. Dev Godku.

Flat Lick.

We have been reading the Advocate and can never see the news of our town published in your paper. Now, if you please, let us see our items in this week's issue.

The m-u-d is still on a boom here.

Mr. E. R. Coone, who has been on the list for the past week, is able to stir again.

Miss Stella Rupely, of Stanford, has recently been employed as governess for the children of Mr. G. M. Smith.

Not wishing to say anything about the sidewalks of our town, but something serious came near happening Sunday.

D. W. Slusher was in Barbourville Monday on business.

W. A. Yeager was in Barbourville Monday on business.

The la grippe is serving part of the people rough. How about it, J. G. Reynolds? How about it, ERAT.

Mrs. A. T. Smith, of Middlesboro, spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Dave Yeager.

Miss Flora Smith has returned home after spending a week with friends in London. She reports a delightful visit.

Miss Nannie Edwards, of Pineville, and Mrs. John Hendrickson and daughter, Fannie, of Four Mile, were in Flat Lick Friday.

We are sorry to announce the death of Aunt Emily Baker, who died at the home of her son, near this place on February 28, 1905. She was 70 years of age. She leaves a host of friends and relatives to mourn their loss, who have the sympathy of this community.

Miss Lola Yeager is visiting relatives in Middlesboro this week.

Hammond.

Here comes Wild Bill again! Marsh Braughton has moved from the Doe Gap branch to Mill creek. Good-bye, Marsh.

Grant Hammons, of this place, has returned from Knoxville, Tennessee, where he has been on business.

Nearly all the people of this place visited Joe Hammond's distillery last Saturday. We had a good old time.

Anthony Meredith has sold his farm to Grant Hammons for the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars.

Success to the Advocate and its many readers.

Messer.

Well, well, Mr. Editor, after so long a time here comes the good old Republican to tell you the weather has been terrible cold. Golly! the cold weather has caused some of the boys to scorch their shins.

Dr. Blair has purchased a new piano and all one can hear is Yankee Doodle.

Florence Messer visited her parents Sunday on Rolling Fork.

Little Dan Simpson got both feet frost bitten, and they are giving him a good deal of pain and trouble.

The Death Angle came along on Tuesday, the 25th of this month and took Mary Jane Bailey away to rest for ever more. She left a husband and three children and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

Mr. Editor, will you please tell "Wild Bill" to come over to Big creek, as we would like to get acquainted with him.

Success to the Mountain Advocate and its many readers.

TRUE REPUBLICAN.

Mills.

You will please insert the following in the columns of your valuable paper.

As the weather begins to moderate and the people begin to stir and prepare for the early spring, you will no doubt hear from more of the old correspondents from various places, for the winter has surely kept people in close proximity to the woodpile, and the fireplace has been our most welcomed friend.

The stove business at this place has been dull the past two months, and the mill has run but very little.

Messrs. W. D. Snowden and Kelly, of Flat Lick, while en route to the Bear Creek State Works in Clay county last Friday, stopped here for dinner at the Hargo hotel. Mr. Snowden is much interested in the stove business, and we are always glad to have him with us.

MacK Hemphill, deputy sheriff, was in this vicinity the earlier part of last week.

"Bad roads" is the talk of this community, and at this writing it is not very certain whether our mail carrier, Mat Deen, unless he secures some kind of air machine, will be able to make many more trips.

Frank Warren has been on the sick list the past week.

Mrs. John H. Mills spent Friday and Saturday with her father, Mr. Martin Carnes.

Now, right here, we have one of our deputy sheriff, David Mills. Dave having very kindly tendered his services, in the illness of Frank Warren, as clerk in the Warren Bros. store, and on meeting with a customer the other day, and who inquired if he had a certain kind of "axle grease." Dave tells him yes, sir, and goes to work and wraps him up in a box of "harness oil." The customer returning the next day, stated he had bought lots of "axle grease" but that was the first time he ever heard of "harness oil" being sold in, or spelling axle grease. Ha! ha!

Frank Warren will soon have his saw mill up and in operation, and expects to have several months work.

We hope to see the weather change and business back to its usual stand.

Among our neighbors last Saturday night enjoyed, some very good music, especially by the little folks.

Your correspondent, with all others, will welcome the warm sunny days and those to remind us of the coming spring we hope to see. Joe.
